

CODE WORD ENDS DEEP MYSTERY OF A "MISSING MAN"

Harry Clarke Coe Jr., Who Disappeared Jan. 30, Joined by Wife in Alaska.

BODY AND MIND SOUND.

Can't Tell How He Crossed Continent—Will Live in Fairbanks.

Harry Clarke Coe Jr., who disappeared from his home in Allston, Mass., Jan. 30 last and was found late in April by a detective in Fairbanks, Alaska, has been joined by his wife, Mrs. Coe, who reached Fairbanks yesterday, and the joy of the young couple over being reunited knew no bounds. They will make Fairbanks their home for the winter and possibly longer. Young Mr. Coe has a responsible position with a concern which supplies mines with equipment.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Clarke Coe of No. 4 West Seventy-sixth Street, the young man's parents, received tele-

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing. It is the can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

graphic advice late yesterday to the effect that Mrs. Harry Clarke Coe Jr. had reached her husband. The messages were in code form, the code having been arranged before the younger Mrs. Coe left for Alaska. The information received by Dr. and Mrs. Coe from Fairbanks assured them that their son was in good shape physically and apparently normal mentally. It was stated, however, that the young man, even at the time of his meeting with his wife, was unable to realize exactly how he happened to go to Fairbanks. He evidently had been suffering from a form of aphasia.

"Everything is all right now," said Mrs. Coe Jr. last night. "My son and his wife are reunited and are happy. Their little baby is with us here and we'll take care of her until her parents come back to New York. She is growing rapidly—weights fourteen pounds. My son had a form of nervous prostration. That is why he disappeared. He's practically well now and has an excellent position in Fairbanks."

The disappearance of Harry Clarke Coe Jr. was decidedly mysterious. He was a well known and popular street car, and that was the last seen of him. His home life had been very happy and he had no financial troubles. He was finally discovered in Fairbanks by Robert Burns, Chief of the Burns Detective Bureau of Boston.

The young man's wife recently started for Alaska to join her husband. She was accompanied by Judge and Mrs. Everett B. Smith of Seattle. They were in New Haven attending the graduation at Yale of a son and a nephew. Being friends of the Coe family, they readily agreed to accompany the young wife West, eventually extending their trip clear to Fairbanks. Clarence Smith, a son of Judge and Mrs. Smith, went with the party from Seattle.

Mrs. Coe Jr., through her code messages, assured her mother-in-law that the trip to Alaska had been a splendid one. She rested three days in Seattle. She wired also that her husband intended to buy a little home in Fairbanks.

DOCTOR, BY WIRELESS, TREATS PATIENT AT SEA

Aid Given by Physician on British Warship Fails to Save Sailor on Distant Steamer.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—The story of how a fruitless effort was made to save a victim of pneumonia by applying a method of treatment prescribed by wireless to a physician on a British warship many miles away was told today by Capt. Lane of the steamship Bradford, which docked at Point Breeze.

There is no physician on the Bradford, and when Martin Bortolotti, a sailor, was stricken, the second day out from Tampam, Mexico, Capt. Lane got out his medical books and made a study of Bortolotti's symptoms. Several remedies were applied, but the sailor grew worse.

Then the wireless operator was instructed to search the seas with messages for a doctor. After the operator had worked his key for several hours he located a British warship, which refused to give its name or location. The Captain of the warship stated he could not leave his post, but asked for a description of the symptoms of the sailor.

There were supplied, and in a few minutes the physician on the battleship sent by wireless a prescription. The treatment was applied, but two days later Bortolotti died. His body was brought to Philadelphia.

Baseball Lottery Man Gilty. CINCINNATI, July 22.—Edward Hardy, arrested in connection with the country-wide campaign against baseball lotteries, was found guilty in Municipal Court yesterday. The minimum sentence of ten days and $50 fine was imposed, the ten days then being remitted and the fine cut to $25.

LUSITANIA VICTIM'S WIDOW INTIMATED SUICIDE TO FRIENDS

"Nothing Left to Live For,"
Mrs. Vernon Told Last of Them to See Her.

Friends of Mrs. Inez Vernon, widow of George Ley P. Vernon, Lusitania victim, said today they believed she had been contemplating suicide for several weeks. Her body was found yesterday in her apartment, No. 31 West Eleventh Street, and beside her was the revolver with which she had killed herself. She was last seen alive Monday, and physicians who saw the body think she committed suicide that day.

Ralph R. Govin of Rosedale, who is in the oil business at No. 30 West Street, said today Mrs. Vernon had asked him to serve as executor of Mr. Vernon's will.

"She remarked frequently during the last three weeks that she had nothing left to live for," Govin said today. "I did not at that time, however, believe she contemplated suicide. I am sure she had no financial worries. She received $20,000 insurance on Mr. Vernon's life, and her account of $10,000 in the Hudson Trust Company is intact. Her business affairs, I feel confident, were all in good shape."

Mrs. Vernon, who was thirty-two years old, was a sister of Miss Rita Jolivet, the actress, who was saved when the German submarine sank the Lusitania. Miss Jolivet, Mr. Vernon, Charles Frohman and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, it will be recalled, stood together on the liner's deck as she sank.

WOMAN TAKES POISON, THEN WIRES TO FRIEND TO COME TO HER AID

Pharmacist Finds Her Dying
and Rushes Her to Bellevue Hospital.

Mrs. Rita Phelps, twenty-six years old, who came here from Canada three months ago with her six-year-old daughter, Marguerite, was reported dying today at Bellevue Hospital of bichloride of mercury poisoning. She was taken from her lodging, No. 349 West Thirty-fourth Street, after Dr. Benjamin Love, a Detroit pharmacist, had telephoned for the police. There is little chance of her recovery.

Dr. Love said that he had known Mrs. Phelps for ten years. He is visiting friends in Great Neck, L. I., and late last evening received a telegram asking him to call on her at once. He found her in great agony and she told him she had determined to commit suicide.

The pharmacist explained that Mrs. Phelps recently divorced her husband. The decree gave her custody of the child for six months of the year. She had come to New York to turn over the little girl to the father for the coming six months, but was possessed with a fear that he might not give her up at the end of the period.

Owing to the fact that Dr. Love stays at the Herald Square Hotel when he is in New York and has all his mail sent there, he gave the police the hotel as his address, and there was some doubt as to his identity when his name was not found on the register of the hotel. Learning this, he at once came into the city to set matters straight.

FINDS HIS TWO SONS' BODIES IN THE MORGUE

Called to Identify One Victim of Drowning, Lynn (Mass.) Man
Sees Second Body Near First.

BOSTON, July 22.—Summoned to the Morgue to identify a body found in the Charles River as that of his son, Edward R. Bowley of Lynn last night recognized a second body, found within ten feet of the first, as that of another son.

The boys, Clarence Henry Bowley, twenty years old, and Daniel Downing Bowley, sixteen, Dr. George Burgess Magrath, medical examiner, believes were thrown into the river from a Boston and Albany Railroad freight train by a brakeman, and drowned.

The boys left Lynn on Sunday for Ayer Junction to seek work with a circus, and it is believed they were stealing a ride home on Tuesday morning.

After the first body, that of Clarence, had been discovered, the father of the boys predicted that Daniel's body was in the river.

"The boys were always together in life," he told the police, "and I feel that they died together." Six hours later he was called to identify the body of Daniel.

MAN WHO CUT THROAT IN COURT IS IDENTIFIED

Frank Steinhauer, Whose Attempt at Suicide Created Panic,
May Die in Hospital.

A middle-aged man who created a panic yesterday in the Hoboken District Court, where he was a spectator, by cutting his own throat, has been identified in St. Mark's Hospital, Hoboken, as Frank Steinhauer of No. 89 Adams Street, Hoboken. His condition is critical.

While Judge Charles J. Carrick was in the middle of a decision he was rendered in a civil case in the Hoboken District Courtroom, his clerk, Harry Bennett, exclaimed excitedly: "My God! There's a man cutting his throat." When the Judge looked where Bennett pointed he saw a middle-aged spectator, sitting on a front bench, plunging a knife repeatedly into his neck. A panic followed. Several women fainted and fell to the floor. Others screamed. Still others, men, too, ran from the room. Attorneys Le Fort and Hollender, counsel in the case, rushed for the man and tried to take his knife away. He fought them all over the place before they disarmed him. He had no interest in the case on trial.

Driver Out of Work a Suicide. Henry Adler, sixty years old, a driver out of work, ended his life by gun at No. 227 East Fifty-first Street today. A loaded revolver was at his side.

VAUDEVILLE ACTOR HELD AFTER OVERTURNING CAR CRUSHES GIRL TO DEATH

Charged With Criminal Negligence and Driving Auto
Without License.

An automobile driven by Seymour Felix, a member of the youthful vaudeville team of Felix and Calum, ran into an embankment on Parkman parkway, near Baychester Avenue, at twenty minutes after 3 o'clock this morning and was overturned.

Miss Rebecca Kammerman, seventeen, employed by Stewart & Co. of No. 402 Fifth Avenue, and living at No. 324 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, was instantly killed. The car had to be lifted before her crushed body could be moved.

Felix was held in $500 bail to-day by Coroner Healy on a charge of criminal negligence. The police also held him on a charge of driving without a license. The others in the car, who were only slightly hurt, were Miss Irene Silverman of Baltimore, Miss Kammerman's cousin, and Mortimer Levy of No. 321 West One Hundred and Forty-eighth Street. They were held by the Coroner as witnesses in $100 each. All furnished bail.

The capized automobile was righted with the assistance of two passing lamp-lighters and some men from another automobile. Dr. Scott of Parkman Hospital, said Miss Kammerman had been instantly killed.

According to the police, the two couples, after a dance, hired the machine at 115 A. M. at One Hundred and Forty-fourth Street and Broadway, and Felix volunteered to drive it. They had been making a tour of Washington Heights and the Bronx when the accident occurred. The road there is skirted with underbrush and is near where cars dart from Baychester Avenue. There is a large illuminated sign warning motorists to drive slowly, and it was at this sign the car ran into the embankment. It is believed Felix was not familiar with the road. The girl's body was taken to the Westchester Police Station.

NEEDED ONLY A HANDLE. (From the Indianapolis Star.) "John, dear," said Mrs. Newed, "I'm afraid I forgot something in making this pound-cake. Do you notice anything wrong about it?" "Well," replied the man who had promised to love, honor, obey and pay the freight, "if you had added a handle it would have been easier to pound with."

TELLER PLEADS GUILTY TO ROBBING TREASURY TO LIVE BEYOND MEANS

Government Willing That Tanner Serve Only Two Years for Thefts.

William B. Tanner, chief paying teller of the minor coin division of the Sub-Treasury on Wall Street, after being indicted to-day by the Federal Grand Jury on the charge of embezzling Government funds to the amount of $2,500 by substituting twenty-six bags containing $50 in pennies for a like number of bags containing nickels, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Howe. Tanner made a full confession of his thefts, which commenced in August, 1913, and continued up to his going on vacation on July 15. He said his sole desire was to "take his medicine" and have the whole thing over with.

"Yes, but I must consider the right quantity of medicine to give you," remarked Judge Howe, as he remanded Tanner to the Tombs until Tuesday.

Assistant District Attorney Horshornstein told Judge Howe that under the law Tanner would have to be fined $2,500 and could be sent to prison for ten years. Although each of the thefts constituted a separate crime, Mr. Horshornstein said, when argued by Judge Howe to make a recommendation as to punishment, he thought in view of the confession two years would be sufficient.

Lawyer Woolsey A. Shepard, pleading for a light sentence, explained that Tanner had squandered the money in a futile attempt to live beyond his means. He suggested that Tanner be sent to the prison at Caldwell, N. J., so his wife and two children could visit him, saying that if sent to Atlanta they could not do so because of lack of funds. He explained that the Government had not lost anything, being protected by Tanner's bond.

Judge Howe said that as the sentence would have to be more than a year he would have to send Tanner to Atlanta.

Tanner, who is forty-one years of age, has been in the Government service fifteen years at a salary of $2,000. He resides at East Orange, N. J.

Boy Drowned in Bronx. Six-year-old Edward Wahashia of No. 4328 Martha Avenue, the Bronx, was drowned this afternoon while bathing with companions in the Bronx River at Two Hundred and Thirty-sixth Street. The other boys ran away and the body was found by Joseph Becker of No. 405 East Twenty-fourth Street and Joe Lauricella of No. 406 East Thirty-third Street.
